Esteemed Citizen Called By Death

Christian Asmusen, aged 70, pioneer resident of the district, died at his home here on Monday afternoon. Though in failing health for the past year, death came unexpectedly and Crossfield mourns the passing of one of its finest citizens.

Born in Denmark, he resided for some time at Oneda, South Dakota, moving to the Lacombe district in 1900. Coming to Crossfield in 1902, he homesteaded west of town later moving into the village.

Mr. Asmusen served the village as councillor for the past thirteen years and was an active member of the Board of Trade. In respect to his memory, the flag on the Fire Hall is flying at half mast.

He is survived by his wife; a son, William, of Agar, South Dakota; a brother, Martin, of Notikewin, Alberta; and several sisters in the United States.

Funeral services will be conducted at the Anglican Church on Friday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock by the Rev. A. D. Currie, with interment in the Crossfield cemetery. No flowers by request.

35th Anniversary A Success

The United Church held very successful anniversary services on Sunday and Monday of this week. Dr. Kerby was the guest preacher on Sunday evening and a large congregation turned out to hear this veteran preacher who is so well known in Alberta. The choir rendered two very fine anthems.

On Monday evening a large crowd attended the splendid fowl supper served by the Ladies' Aid, under the presidency of Mrs. E. Fox, and the entertainment that followed.

The Minister and Board of the church express their appreciation to all who, by their interest and financial help, made this 35th anniversary of the church worth while.

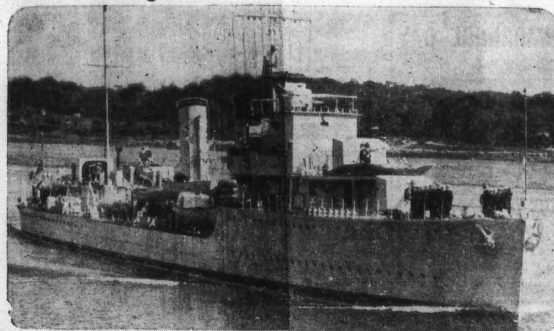

DENY REPORTS OF SEIZURE

Denial of a report that the special areas board was making seizures of farmers' wheat for debts was issued during the week by the lands and mines department. "Instructions have been issued to the special areas board that the first five bushels were to be clear, in accordance with an order in council." In cases where the farmers' yield was less than five bushels an acre, the province will receive nothing from this year's crop, it was pointed out.

RE-ELECT DAWSON AS SPEAKER

Caucus of 35 government members of the Legislative Assembly commenced Tuesday in the legislative buildings. This is the first caucus since the general election of March last. Proposed legislation relating to the wheat situation is said to be one item of discussion. Re-election of Peter Dawson, member for Little Bow, as Speaker of the House has been announced.

H.M.C.S. Margaree

The Canadian destroyer H.M.C.S. Margaree has been lost in the North Atlantic with 140 officers and men following a collision with an unnamed merchant vessel. The announcement made by Naval Service Headquarters at Ottawa, states the collision took place in the submarine zone on the night of October 22.

V. V. R. COMPLETE ORGANIZATION

The Crossfield Unit of the Veterans' Volunteer Reserve completed its organization work at a meeting last Saturday, with the election of the following: veterans to assist Platoon Commander C. H. McMillan in the work of the unit: Allen Montgomery, Platoon Sergeant; Simon Cameron, Ernest Beddoes, Harry Fenwick and Douglas J. Hall, Section Leaders. These men were all instructors in France, some having taken special courses.

The unit now has a membership of 42, all sworn in as special war-time constabulary.

It was decided that the Reserve meet in the U.F.A. Hall twice a month during the winter, on the second and fourth Wednesday afternoons of each month at 3:30 o'clock, commencing November 13.

It was also decided that if the civilians wish to form an auxiliary section and join the Veterans in lectures and drill, they will be welcome. Mr. W. K. Gish, principal of the Crossfield schools, has intimated that he and Mr. Adams and the High School boys would be glad to drill with the Veterans twice a month.

The Veterans were fortunate in having the opportunity of hearing Mr. A. Clark Bury, Barrister of Olds and a former member of the N.W.M.P., explain the Defense of Canada Regulations in some detail. Mr. Bury also explained some of the duties and functions of a peace officer, culled from his experiences with the famed Force.

Another feature of the parade was furnished by Laurie Bullard of Olds, assisted by John Hogg. Mr. Bullard, a former member of the P.P.C.L.L., gave a practical demonstration on how to deal with "stick up" men and opponents using daggers and knives. He initiated the veterans very effectively in the art of self defense by having them apply the principles on each other under his direction.

The Empire At War

Britain's great colonial empire is mobilising its strength in the battle for freedom. Everywhere is keen desire to enlist in the army, navy or air force. Round the Seven Seas, British colonies are providing supplies indispensable to war effort. By the end of August 1940 total cash contributions from the peoples of the Colonial Empire to the general war effort were approximately 75 cents per head from the sixty million colonial peoples.

In a fleet of lorries, a contingent from the Northern Rhodesia regiment made a mechanised "safar" of 2,000 miles from Lusaka to Nairobi in East Africa.

Two-Fifths of the total male population of Kenya had enlisted in the East African forces as long ago as last May.

Uganda has formed a local defence force, with central officers' training school and army motor driving school.

The Tanganyika Naval Volunteer Force and the Tanganyika Air Defence are co-operating in coastal defence.

Nigeria has compulsory military training for Europeans up to the age of 40.

In Hong Kong all British residents of military age are enrolled in the Colony's defence forces.

In both the Straits Settlements and Federated Malay States, British Europeans have either volunteered or been called up under special legislation.

In Mauritius, the territorial force has been re-organized. Skilled tradesmen have been recruited for service in the Middle East.

Cyprus had the distinction of providing the first unit of Colonial troops to arrive in France.

Both Jews and Arabians in Palestine have enlisted in great numbers.

Volunteer forces in Bermuda were called up and expanded at the beginning of the war.

In Trinidad, five times the number of men needed have applied for enlistment in the R.N.V.R.

Household Hints

It's easy to make a delicious home made soup. It's mighty easy to eat and enjoy a bowl or two these cool days. Nut-flavored Lima beans make such wonderfully delicious and nutritious soups that the following recipes should prove particularly pleasing to you.

To revive the fresh, juicy tenderness of dried Limas, soak them in cold water from 6 to 8 hours. Drain. Cover with boiling water and cook slowly until tender (about 30 minutes). Add salt after 20 minutes cooking. This basic recipe applies to either large or baby Limas.

1 tablespoon chopped parsley

The discolouration on the germ end of wheat grains, commonly called "black point" or "black tip," is unusually common in this year's crop. The term "kernel smudge" has been adopted by plant pathologists for this disease to avoid confusion with a less conspicuous and less common disease which they call black point. Kernel smudge is a fungous disease, and may be caused by at least two different fungi. One of them (Helmintosporium sativum) is a dangerous parasite, being a very common cause of seedling blight and root-rot of wheat. Incidentally, it is capable of attacking roots, leaves and grains of barley.

The fungi which cause kernel smudge are probably present in all wheat fields in western Canada, and the air contains an abundance of spores, especially in late summer and in the fall. Outbreaks of the disease such as that which occurred this year must, therefore, be due largely to favourable weather conditions. It appears that the new rust resistant varieties are more susceptible than were the old standard varieties such as Marquis.

There is, at present, no way of controlling or preventing kernel smudge. Diseased seed may produce a crop free from kernel smudge, and the crop produced from disease-free seed may contain many discoloured kernels. Since, however, one of the fungi involved may cause seedling blight, if "smudged" grain is used for seed it should be treated with an organic mercury dust.

Dr. F. J. Griesmer, Associate Plant Pathologist at the Dominion Rust Research Laboratory, has consented to prepare a more complete discussion of this problem for publication in the next issue of the now well known, semi-annual "Seedtime and Harvest."

2 slices onion
2 tablespoons butter or
1 teaspoon salt bacon fat
1-8 teaspoon pepper
Put Limas through food chopper
Heat milk in double boiler, add
Limas. Heat fat in frying pan, add onion and carrot and cook 5 minutes. Add to hot mixture, cook 10 minutes, then strain. Add salt, pepper and parsley.

Orange Marshmallows
2 tablespoons unflavored gelatine
1 cup orange juice
2 cups sugar 1 egg white
1 teaspoon grated orange peel
Powdered sugar
Soak the gelatine in 1-2 cup of the orange juice. Add the other 1-2 cup orange juice to sugar and boil to hard ball stage (253 degrees F.) Stir this into the soaked gelatine and beat until dissolved. Beat egg white until stiff. Gradually beat the gelatine mixture and orange peel into egg white and continue beating until cool and stiff. Pour into a square pan that has been buttered and dusted well with powdered sugar. Keep in a covered container in refrigerator to retain moisture.

When tying up parcels to be sent by post, dampen the string before using it. This stretches it a little, and when dry it will shrink and tighten.

"England's Children Are Full of Courage"

In her first broadcast 14-year-old Princess Elizabeth told the world that England's children at home were "full of cheerfulness and courage." Princess Elizabeth (right) is shown with her younger sister, Princess Margaret, before the broadcasting microphone in London as she held the British throne delivered her message.

In a clear, confident young voice the Princess declared: "And when peace comes, remember it will be for us children of today to make the world of tomorrow a better and happier place."

The World of Wheat

By H. G. L. Strange

A series of momentous discoveries have recently been made in Great Britain, and because of it all an action has been taken by the British Government which may in time completely solve Canada's and the World's surplus wheat problem.

The discoveries are that the now famous vitamin B-1, sometimes known as thiamin or aneurin controls to a great extent the health, the energy and the well being of people; then that this vitamin can be produced artificially at a low cost; and more important still that it can easily be added to wheat flour, so making bread almost a complete food in itself.

The British Government will require by law that all flour manufactured after the spring of 1941 shall contain the necessary amount of vitamin B-1.

It is expected that this fortifying of flour will eventually spread to all wheat using countries, and that it will result in an additional consumption of this more nutritious and even more palatable bread.

I have calculated that if every person in the world now using bread made from wheat would consume as little as one extra slice a day, then the World wheat surpluses would quickly disappear.

and wheat acreage would have to be increased.

Following factors have tended to raise price: Australia recently sold 100,000 tons of wheat to Greece—Broomhall estimates the European wheat production in 1940, including area ceded to Russia, to be 1,400 million, a reduction of 10 per cent from last year—All grain crops in Sweden in 1940 were below 1939 totals, wheat being down 47 per cent—Portugal purchased 250,000 bushels wheat from Canada a few days ago.

Following factors have tended to lower price: Larger acreage is expected to be seeded in Danubian countries, Spain and the United Kingdom—China's 1940 wheat crop is reported to be 5% above last year—American domestic sales have dropped sharply due to national election—Argentine wheat prospects continue excellent

Canadian Red Cross Receives Thanks

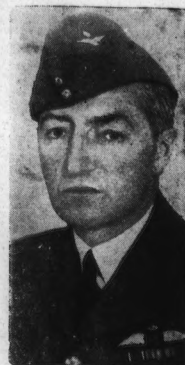

Field Marshal Sir Philip Chetwode, chairman of the British Red Cross, has written the Canadian Red Cross expressing gratitude for the gift of 130 ambulances and also for the agreement to supply 10,000 parcels of food from Canada every week for British prisoners of war in Germany. The British Red Cross is the voluntary auxiliary of the British Government and is committed to the task of supplying food and clothing to prisoners of war in enemy territory.

"The ambulances are a highly valued gift, made at a moment when our organization was hard-pressed to know how to obtain a sufficient number of ambulances to prepare to meet the need," Sir Philip wrote, "I am glad to have this opportunity of reiterating the gratitude of the British Red Cross for the generous and ungrudging help given to us at all times by the Canadian Red Cross in so many directions, and particularly for their latest gesture in undertaking the packing, dispatch and financial responsibility for 10,000 parcels per week for our Prisoners of War."

"I hope you will be able to find means of letting the public in Canada know how immensely this assistance is appreciated in this country and how deeply grateful we are for the unfailing support given us on every occasion." The ambulances were contributed to the Canadian Red Cross for Britain by individuals, business firms, service clubs and other organizations throughout Canada.

Jane: "Are you troubled much by your neighbors with borrowing?"
Mav: "Yes. They never seem to have a thing I want."
